Bunnings shifts gears with automotive range expansion

Bunnings is giving customers more choice and convenient access to an expanded range of automotive products, launching in stores across New Zealand.

The rollout commenced in March with a greater assortment of products from leading and trusted brands landing in all stores by May, while also available online via the Bunnings website.

More than 350 new automotive products will be offered across the category, with the range featuring engine oil, car accessories, coolant, wiper blades and cleaning products.

Bunnings New Zealand General Manager, Melissa Haines, said: “We are pleased to be offering our customers a greater range of autocare products from leading brands, conveniently located at their local Bunnings store and online.

“Whether you’re a car enthusiast or an everyday driver who is keen to keep your vehicle looking good and driving well, you will be able to access a wide variety of products from our stores.

“Our customers have responded very well to our initial automotive offering, and we are excited to see Kiwis benefit from even more choice and our commitment to everyday low prices.

“We thank our suppliers for supporting us with our expansion and helping to deliver our customers an array of market-leading brands,” concluded Haines.

The automotive range expansion builds on other recent steps by Bunnings to grow its offer and meet the changing needs of customers, including through the launch of the expanded cleaning range and the new pet range in 2024.
