South Australian Wine Industry Association

“From its beginning in 1840, the South Australian Wine Industry Association (SAWIA) is the peak body representing the winemakers and grapegrowers of South Australia – the heart and soul of the Australian wine industry.

Over the past couple of years the Bunnings PowerPass has become a “must have” for SAWIA’s members. The PowerPass app makes shopping fast and convenient for a wide range of exclusively priced products for the winery, vineyard, cellar door or restaurant. Safety gear, paints, tools, cleaning products and landscaping items are just some of the many items that are popular.

The option to have multiple PowerPass cards makes administration and reporting quick and easy. With Bunnings stores around regional South Australia, and a strong commitment to customer service, wineries and grape growers have never been better served.

Bunnings also actively supports and encourages strong health and safety practices in the workplace, and was an inaugural sponsor of the SAWIA’s Work Health Safety awards for the wine industry.

WAFarmers

WAFarmers recently moved from their location in Belmont to a property they purchased in Bentley. Bunnings Trade had the pleasure of quoting and supplying a Kaboodle Kitchen and Bathroom in the renovation process. Bunnings Trade also provided the carpet tiles for the office. Bunnings trade support the WAFarmers members with a multitude of items from hardware, paint, fencing, kitchens and bathrooms. Tiles and flooring are also items purchased. Many of the Farmers renovate their homes, offices and businesses with the benefit of pricing and project quoting and off range items.

“WAFarmers as an organisation is constantly on the road talking to farmers across Western Australia. One of the biggest complaints we get is: ‘how our country towns are dying’. This leaves a gap in accessing supplies and services.

Our partnership with Bunnings Trade was developed in 2020 and with their dedicated, service orientated team in Organisations and in stores, Bunnings have been able to offer solutions to this service challenge. Farmers have discovered that with a few clicks on their mobile phone and utilising the app, they have access to warehouses offering very competitively priced products that are often no more than 24 hours away.

Bunnings Organisations team have assisted in signing up individual member accounts and the Trade desk operators are always ready and willing to assist our members with any enquiries. Whilst the small country hardware store might be gone, it has been replaced with a one stop shop in Bunnings, for almost anything they need to maintain infrastructure on farm.”

Women in Apprenticeships Awards

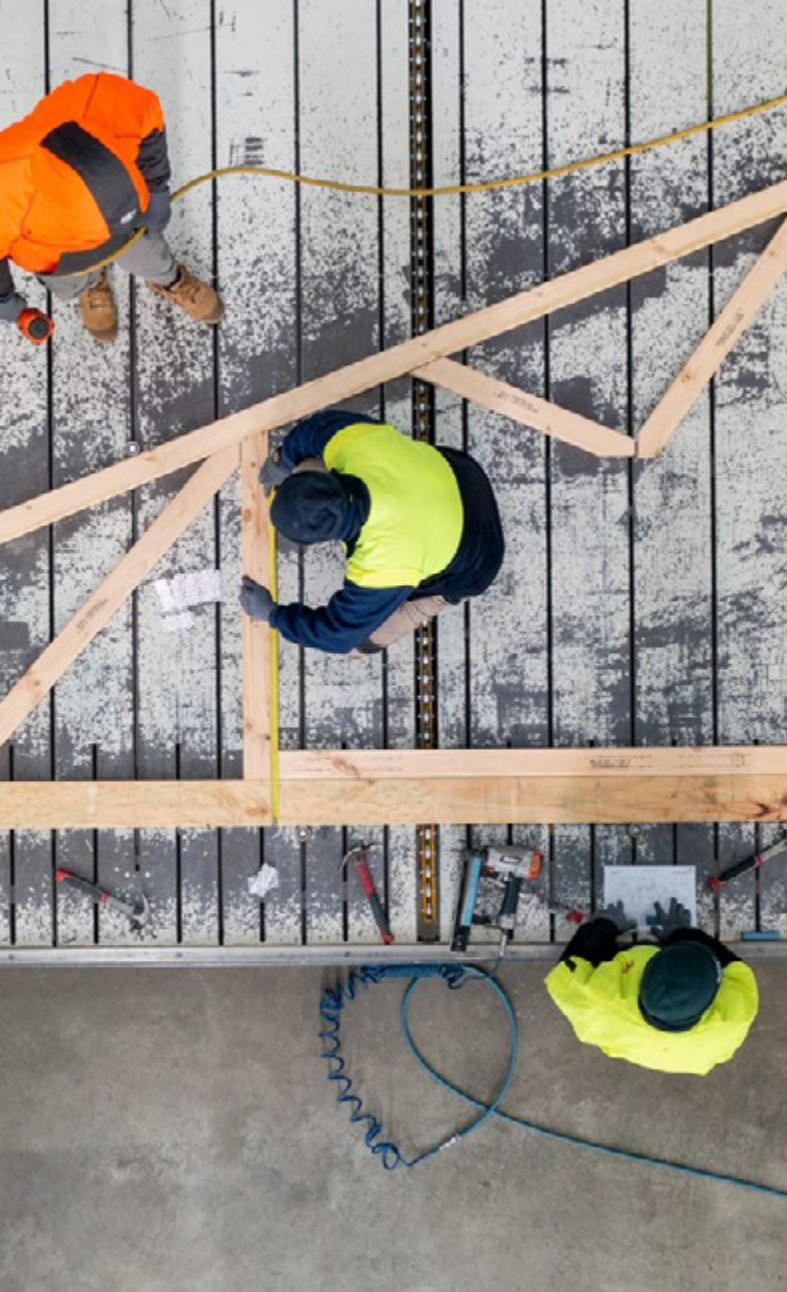

As the third largest industry in Australia in terms of employees and contribution to GDP, construction has staggeringly few female participants: 11 percent of the construction industry is female in management, support and administration roles, only two percent of the industry is women in trades and on the tools. Bunnings Trade is committed to providing meaningful support to help achieve better gender equality and foster a more inclusive and diverse construction industry. In 2023, Bunnings Trade celebrated the launch of a new $100,000 initiative aimed at supporting women in trades early on in their careers. The Award recognised 10 women in a trade currently completing an apprenticeship or recently qualified within the last 12-months. Successful applicants and their employers were granted support packs worth over $10,000, as well as on-going professional and wellbeing support from the National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC).
