Bunnings Mount Roskill store update

Bunnings will temporarily close its Mount Roskill store after receiving engineers' advice that raised concerns around the seismic resilience of the car park. Based on that advice, we have made the decision to close the store until further notice whilst we work through next steps with our landlord and engineers.

Bunnings sincerely apologises to all Mount Roskill customers for the inconvenience, however the safety of team and customers is its number one consideration.

During this period Bunnings' commercial customers will continue to be served via their account managers and retail customers are able to shop at nearby stores or online and have items delivered to their homes.

Bunnings Director NZ, Jacqui Coombes, said: "We're sorry to have to close the store until further notice but we have to make sure our stores are safe for team and customers and we thank customers for their understanding.

"We are making sure our team are looked after during this time and we will redeploy them to nearby stores or offer individual options that work for them. We are working with our landlord and engineers on next steps and we'll update our customers and the community as soon as we can."

"Retail customers can continue to shop with us at Manukau, Grey Lynn, Mount Wellington or New Lynn stores or online by selecting one of these stores as their closest store on our website and items will be delivered to their homes," Jacqui said.
