Lighting the BBQ

- solid fuel is to be used for this product (fire wood, charcoal etc.)
- place solid fuel onto the charcoal grid and light using fire starters
- let the solid fuel light (check occasional to ensure fire is lit)
- ensure air vents are in the open position to enable solid fuel to burn
- the air vent on the BBQ can be used regulate the air circulation in the BBQ
- closing the vent will reduce air circulation and in turns reduces heat
- opening the vent will increase air circulation and increases heat

Cooking

- ensure solid fuel is lit and that there is sufficient heat for cooking
- place food on the cooking grill
- regularly monitor temperature to ensure food is not under or over cooked

Cleaning

- once finished cooking, remove left over solid fuel from the BBQ
- always ensure BBQ is clean and free from oil or grease (internally and externally) to ensure longevity of the BBQ
- always keep BBQ dry and under cover to protect from weather and moisture

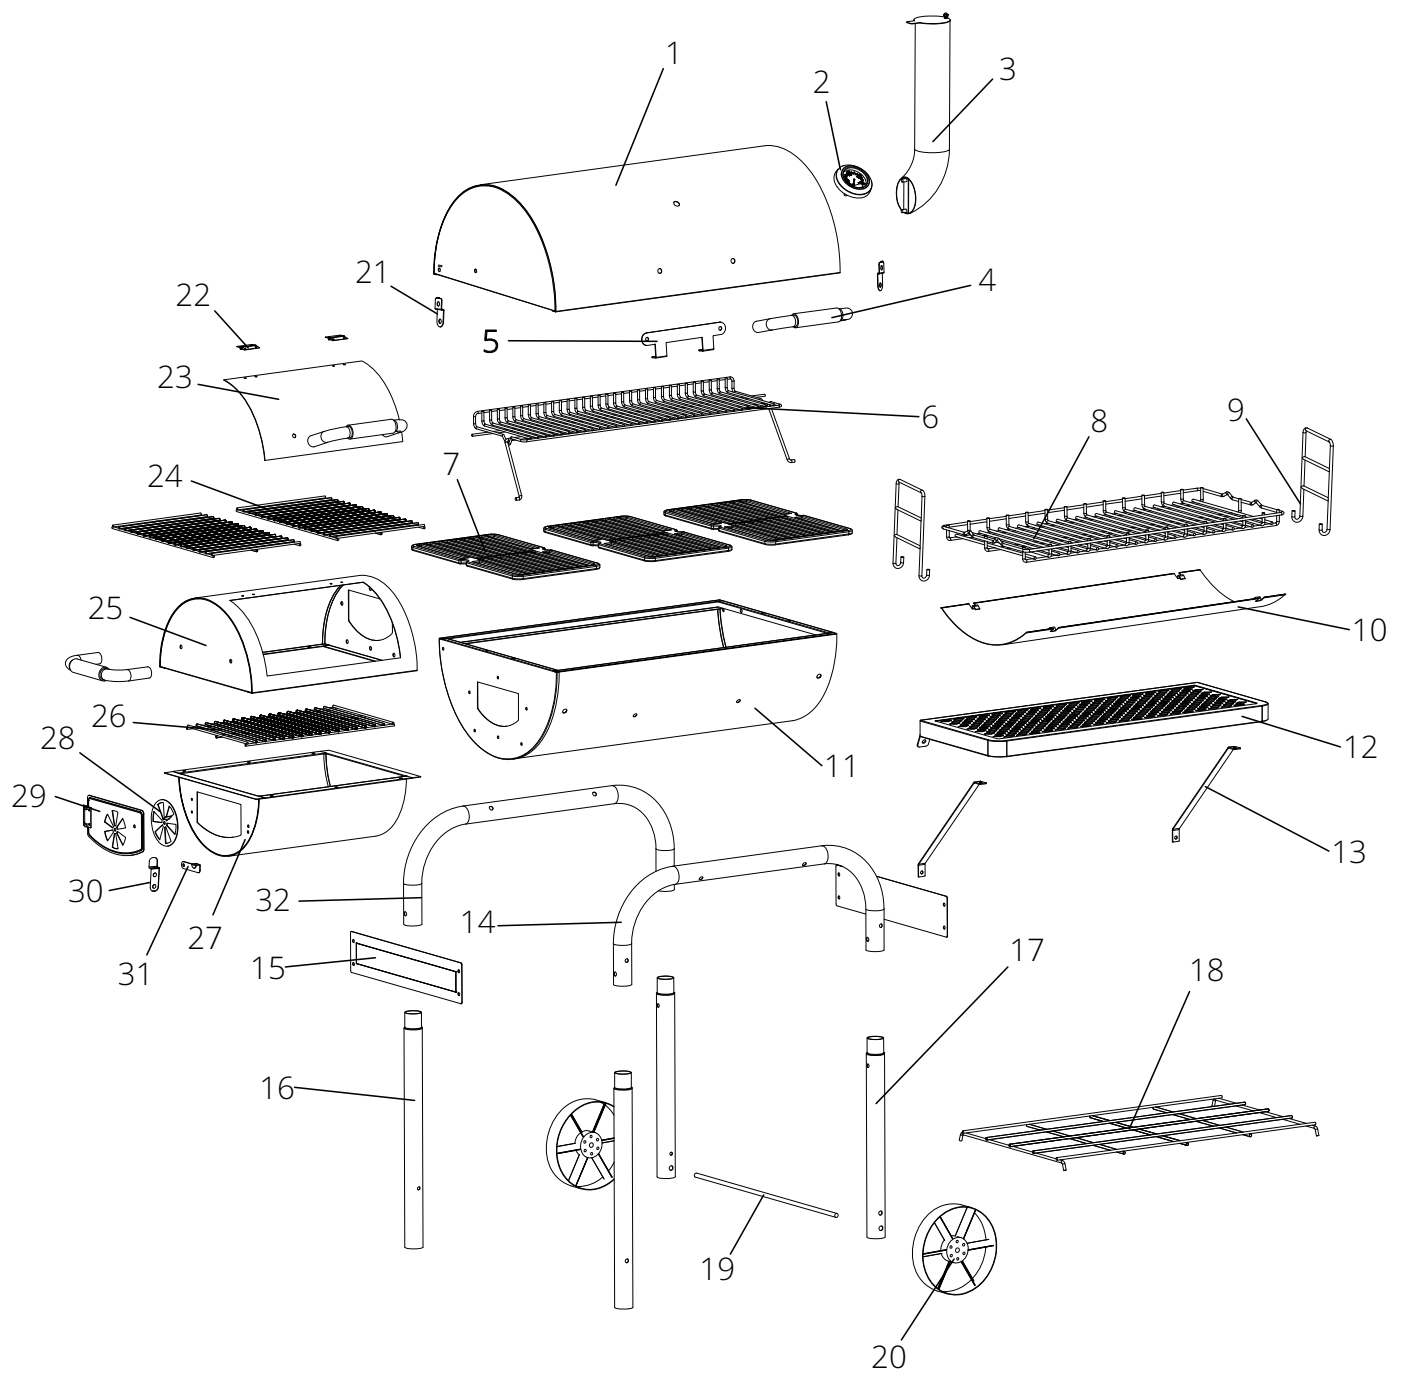

Pre-caution

- always ensure hands are protected when putting or removing food from the BBQ
- always ensure BBQ is cool before touching or cleaning the internal areas
- always ensure hands are protected when making adjustments to the air vent
- do not use flammable liquids for igniting and re-igniting
- open flames and burning embers must never be left unattended
- after use, make sure the BBQ is allowed to cool before moving

Important Notes

- do not use this BBQ indoors.
- do not use this BBQ inside a tent, gazebo or within a confined space.
- this BBQ will become very hot during and for some time after use. Keep children away from the BBQ and do not touch metal parts of the BBQ when in use
- use suitable gloves for protection, especially when loading the BBQ with coal or charcoal
- we recommend protecting your BBQ when not in use with a cover to protect it from weather exposure
