Environmental, Social and Governance at Bunnings

Responsible sourcing

At Bunnings, we're committed to ensuring the products we sell, come from legal and sustainable operations, with good working conditions and fair treatment of people. As such, we continue to pursue sustainability by striving to make them socially responsible, environmentally aware and economically viable.

Sustainability

We are also committed to helping customers live more sustainably, and we are proud of the role we play in supporting local communities to make a positive difference. We recognise that our business plays an important role in reducing carbon emissions and addressing climate change. We have a comprehensive roadmap in place to reduce our energy consumption and to transition towards using more renewable energy sources.

In our Community

Bunnings is committed to participating in the communities in which we operate by contributing to local, regional and national causes, charities and organisations throughout Australia and New Zealand. We provide ongoing assistance to a wide range of local community groups including schools, sporting clubs and service clubs.

Robust Design Standard

Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA) with the design category of Robust is specifically designed to cater for people who require an environment resilient to high impact behaviours, and provides a safe space for both the residents, and the community.

These accommodations are constructed using resilient, but inconspicuous materials to reduce the risk of injury, minimise neighbourhood disturbances, and cope with heavy use. They will also include features such as secure windows, doors, walls and soundproofing. The design also takes into consideration the need for reduced stimuli, which is beneficial for people who may have behavioural concerns.

Robust SDA homes are not only durable, but they also incorporate elements that are easy to clean and maintain, ensuring longevity and a consistent living environment. The goal of Robust SDA is to provide a living space that supports independence while ensuring the safety and well-being of its occupants.

It's a thoughtful convergence of durability, functionality, and design, intended to create a harmonious environment that respects the needs of individuals, ultimately contributing to their quality of life and community integration.

When building to the SDA Robust standards, additional consideration will need to be given to the selection of many materials and products, including:

- Flooring and wall coverings
- Lighting and soundproofing
- Door and window furniture and locks
- Front-of-wall plumbing, tapware and bathroom accessories
- Ligature Resistant and vandal-proof fixtures and fittings
- Safety glass and window coverings
- Joinery and benchtops
- Appliances

Door Hardware

Introduction

The SDA Design Standard specifies the following door and door hardware requirements for Robust builds*:

- Doorways need to provide a minimum opening clearance of 820mm
- All internal doorways should have a level, step-free transition and threshold (maximum vertical tolerance of 3mm vertical or 5mm between abutting surfaces is allowable provided the lip is rounded or bevelled)
- Any Timber doors provided should be solid core
- All glazed areas, glazed doors, glazed windows and glazed side lights should be laminated glass or polycarbonate resin thermoplastic material
- Doorways should have door handles installed at between 900mm to 1100mm above the finished floor level
- Products selected need to be durable and resilient with additional consideration required for resident's fixtures and fittings to be vandal-proof at minimum (low risk) or anti-ligature (med/high risk)

*The NDIS SDA Design Standard (SDA) must be consulted with respect to design and compliance requirements. The products presented in this catalogue also rely on correct installation to meet the requirements of AS1428.
