Our team is passionate about contributing to local communities, as well as rolling up their sleeves to get behind a range of regional and national initiatives across both Australia and New Zealand.

We are all proud to play a small part in making our communities a better place to live. Each year this translates into tens of thousands of activities, events and much needed fundraising activities that often fills in the gaps not covered by other community or government initiatives.

Overall, these efforts helped contribute more than $67 million to our communities in the 2024/2025 financial year.

Central to this were funds raised at our iconic Bunnings sausage sizzles, which we know is such an important part of our customers weekend visits, with over 36,000 of these held across Australia and New Zealand in the last 12 months.

Nationally, we were once again proud to support FightMND, selling more than 60,000 Beanies across our Australian stores, as well as assisting Share the Dignity with the collection of over 88,000 bags.

In New Zealand, we backed grassroots rugby by collectively supporting local clubs across Aotearoa with $300,000 worth of products and materials to help improve their facilities. We also supported the I Got Your Back Pack initiative, Movember and Garden to Table.

Of course, these are just a glimpse of the many ways our team worked in partnership with the community, suppliers and our customers.

Thank you to our team, suppliers, customers and community organisations. We're proud of what we were able to achieve together and look forward to continuing our support in the year ahead.

Mike Schneider
Managing Director

88,000 bags of care

For the eighth consecutive year, Bunnings proudly partnered with Share the Dignity to support the annual It's in the Bag campaign—an initiative that calls on Australians to donate bags filled with essential items for women and girls experiencing homelessness, domestic violence or extreme poverty. Thanks to the generosity of communities across the country, over 88,000 bags were collected at Bunnings stores and we helped Share the Dignity reach their target of collecting one million bags since the charity began.

Bunnings rallies to FightMND

Each year, our team proudly stands behind the FightMND Big Freeze campaign, and 2025 was no exception. From selling Beanies, Buckets and Pet Toys to firing up the BBQ for a nationwide sausage sizzle, our team members came together to help raise funds for vital research and treatment development in the fight against motor neurone disease. Thanks to the incredible support of our communities, we raised and contributed $2.3 million.

6 National Support

Supporting tradies' mental health

Bunnings teamed up with social impact workwear brand TradeMutt to release a co-branded range of merchandise – work shirts and water bottles – designed to spark conversations about mental health across the trade community. Thanks to community support, over $690,000 was raised and donated to TIACS, a free counselling service helping tradies' connect with professional mental health support when they need it most.

Mo's for men's health

Furthering our support for men's mental health, in New Zealand, Bunnings Trade partnered with Movember, selling a co-branded water bottle and hosting a trade BBQ to raise awareness for mental health, suicide prevention, prostate and testicular cancer. All funds raised went directly to Movember.

Helping the community in times of need

When communities in North and Far North Queensland and New South Wales were impacted by cyclones and floods, Bunnings was ready to fundraise and support the local community. Our Australian teams got behind the BBQ, hosting a national sausage sizzle, raising and contributing over $285,000 for GIVIT, who provide essential items for immediate relief, products to aid in the clean-up effort, and goods for families returning to their homes.

In addition, in response to the devastating floods and drought conditions that affected communities across NSW and VIC, Bunnings also donated $175,000 to help with recovery efforts.

$100,000 went to Rural Aid, which provides a range of services to support farming and rural communities before, during and after natural disasters, with the drought conditions having a considerable impact in regional VIC and SA.

An additional $75,000 was donated to GIVIT, to help with relief efforts following floods in NSW.

Fired up for Local Footy Legends

At Bunnings, we believe the heart of footy beats beyond the oval – it lives in the communities that gather, cheer, and fire up the BBQ. Bunnings launched Legend of the Tongs to celebrate the volunteers raising funds and spirits every weekend. During the AFL season, Bunnings has been rewarding these local legends with prizes worthy of their legendary contributions!

On the road to save lives

When St John Ambulance embarked on a drive-a-thon aiming to teach 5,000 Australians how to save a life and deliver Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs) to regional communities, Bunnings was happy to host community lifesaving CPR skills events at 30 of our stores on their 16,000km journey.

Crime Prevention Week 2024

For six years, Bunnings has partnered with community groups and local police for Crime Prevention Week, offering tips and tricks to keep homes and vehicles safe. Our teams always find creative and meaningful ways for community connection on this important matter, hosting a range of activities including Coffee with a Cop, advice on fitting anti-theft screws and trade BBQs with tips on keeping worksites secure.

Connecting pets with their forever home

Our 'Stores for Paws' campaign saw Bunnings stores across Australia welcome local animal rescue and welfare groups in-store to help find loving homes for rescue pets and raise much needed funds. Incredibly, 3,000 adoption enquiries were made nationwide and more than $270,000 was raised in support of local animal rescue and welfare groups across the country.

Sustainability

At Bunnings, sustainability isn't just a goal – it's part of how we show up in our communities every day. We're working to reduce emissions across our operations, support circular solutions for packaging and products, and help our customers and team make lower-impact choices. We're excited to share how we've put that into action this year.

Reducing our operational emissions

In January 2025, Bunnings reached a major milestone – our entire network in Australia and New Zealand is now powered by 100% renewable electricity from solar, wind, and hydro sources. This is a key step in our journey to net zero Scope 1 and 2 emissions by 2030. Over the past year, we've reduced our Scope 1 and 2 emissions by 50.2%. Our rooftop solar network continues to grow, now spanning 184 sites with 45.4 megawatts of capacity. And, we continue to design our new stores with energy efficiency front of mind, featuring improved insulation, improved heating, ventilation and cooling systems, and LED lighting.

1,000 tonnes of batteries recycled!

Since 2021, our Bunnings team, community and customers have dropped off over 1,000 tonnes of household and power tool batteries for recycling, through our in-store drop off program. That's the equivalent of around 41 million AA batteries! Taking steps to a more sustainable future, our program safely disposes batteries for recycling, helps recover valuable materials and contributes to a more circular solution.

Supporting the transition to electric vehicles

This year, we began the transition to a lower-emissions fleet, with the first delivery of electric vehicles (EV) and home charging infrastructure for our team on the road. To help customers charge up while they shop, we expanded our existing network of EV charging stations with 12 additional 120kW fast charging stations. That brings our total to 19 charging stations available across selected New South Wales, Victoria, Western Australia, and New Zealand stores. We also now offer home EV chargers and accessories for sale at selected stores, making it even easier for customers to make the choice to go electric.

Making packaging better, together.

In 2025, we continued to work with suppliers to make packaging more sustainable – reducing the amount of packaging used, minimising difficult-to-recycle materials and making recovery easier. We also added the Australasian Recycling Label (ARL) to over 1,800 more of our own-brand products, helping customers recycle correctly.

Pallets with a purpose

We have expanded our timber pallet recycling program, with over 260 stores now taking part. Where plain pine pallets can't be reused, we're giving them a second life as a useful product our customers can purchase in store – garden mulch! It's another way we aim to support circular solutions and reduce waste.

Responsible Timber Sourcing

Ensuring that our timber comes from responsibly managed forests is important to us and we know it matters to our community too. This commitment is reflected in our Responsible Timber Sourcing Policy, which has evolved to drive better practices, and requires that all timber from natural forests comes from sources that are certified by independent third-party schemes, such as the Forest Stewardship Council® (FSC®) or Programme for the Endorsement of Forest Certification (PEFC). We continue to partner with our suppliers to improve sourcing practices and use tools like our timber survey to ensure we know the origins of the timber and fibre in our products.

A snag or coffee for the Good Friday Appeal

In April, our VIC and TAS stores hosted statewide BBQs to raise funds for the Good Friday Appeal. Together with donations from hot drinks sold in our cafes, and supplier event fundraising, $225,000 was raised and contributed. Funds raised will support the Royal Children's Hospital so they can continue to deliver world class care for patients and their families.

A united effort for Matt's Place

When Matt's Place, a vital community hub in Chelsea offering home-cooked meals and connection for those facing hardship or isolation, needed a refresh, the centre received a boost from the Bunnings team. Bunnings Mornington, Cranbourne, and Keysborough joined forces with six local high schools to transform the space over three days.

Wellbeing garden for students in Horsham

The Horsham Warehouse team visited their local primary school, installing a sensory and relaxation space featuring a vertical garden. Inspiring young green thumbs

At the Sandro Demaio Foundation's Little Food Festival in Melbourne's Fed Square, our team helped the younger generation explore where their food comes from. Getting hands on, more than 3,000 kids got to plant and take home lettuce, silverbeet and edible violas. Our team loved sharing plant-care tips and ideas for turning future harvests into delicious meals.

Bunnings, teens and SES team up

When the Yarrawonga SES approached our Yarrawonga store for help building a boat-shaped sandpit, the team saw an opportunity to turn the request into something even more meaningful—a hands-on teen skills project. With teenagers from both the SES and Bunnings families involved, the project ran across school holidays, giving participants the chance to learn practical skills while working together to bring the sandpit to life. Demonstrating what can be achieved through community collaboration and youth empowerment, the initiative also led to the Yarrawonga SES winning this year's Community Involvement State Award!

Community comes together for Defenders Soul Kitchen

Defenders Soul Kitchen is a charity café offering affordable meals, coffee, and a pay-it-forward system to support those facing hardship (including homelessness, domestic violence or social isolation). Local Bunnings teams rallied together in a true all-hands-on-deck effort to refurbish the café, kitchen, and garden – taking on everything from wall panelling and painting to installing new light fittings, mulching, and planting.

A garden of goodwill

With a shared goal to give back, Bunnings Yeppoon helped bring Milman State School's vegetable garden to life, with its fresh produce destined for a free community pantry. Bunnings donated the plants and materials for the veggie garden and pantry, while the local Men's Shed designed and built the pantry. Together, they're creating a space where homegrown food will be shared freely with the whole community.

Digging in to support local school garden

Team from Belconnen Warehouse were happy to team up with Miles Franklin Primary School to lend a hand with their garden tidy project. It was a great opportunity to support the school community, and the team enjoyed getting their hands dirty to create a more welcoming outdoor space for students and staff.

Canberra Airport team empowers families during Anti-Poverty Week

Canberra Airport Warehouse was proud to be involved in the Salvation Army's Anti-Poverty Week event, raising awareness of the causes and impacts of poverty and inspiring action to eliminate it. Our team hosted an interactive stall designed to empower families with skills for growing food on a budget, to promote financial wellbeing and resilience.

Backing grassroots rugby in Aotearoa (New Zealand)

Rugby holds a special place in the hearts of many Kiwis, bringing communities together through the love of the game. Since 2021, our Bunnings Rugby Assist program has proudly supported 50 grassroots rugby clubs across Aotearoa with a share of $1.2 million in products and materials to help upgrade their facilities. This year, we are proud to once again award a further 10 clubs with $30,000 to help improve their space.

Teams rally for MND NZ

Our Aotearoa team fired up the barbecues at stores across the country for a national fundraiser supporting Motor Neurone Disease (MND) NZ's annual appeal. Alongside sizzling sausages, our team also sold MND NZ beanies. Thanks to the generosity of our local communities, we proudly raised and contributed over $50,000 for MND support, advocacy and research.

I Got Your Back Pack virtual giving

Bunnings again got behind 'I Got Your Back Pack' charity with a virtual donation drive, providing care and supplies to survivors of domestic violence in New Zealand. With the initiative running in December, team and customers donated virtual bags to support families in need at Christmas.

Raised gardens, raised spirits

Our Hamilton team had the privilege of building a wheelchair-accessible raised garden bed for the residents of Resthaven Community Trust. Along with the garden bed, the team donated a variety of vegetables, herbs, and fruit trees to create a vibrant, productive space. Designed to be inclusive, the garden encourages residents — including those living with dementia or limited mobility — to enjoy sensory stimulation, gentle exercise, and meaningful social interaction in a safe, accessible environment.

Garden transformation

Bunnings team arrived at Forrest Hill Primary School in Auckland with a mission (and a truckload of bark) ready to dig in and make a difference. Bark was spread, weeds were pulled, a forgotten pond space was transformed, and the large Koru Garden, was filled with soil, ready for planting. Students joined in helping to assemble a new Buddy Bench. By the end of the day, the school grounds looked refreshed and community connections were reinforced.
